Merid Ceming Ang. 21er.

A. G. Allen's New Orleans Minstrels, clean, refined and up-to date, by colored artist (male land female) carrying three times as, many people as any other minstrel company in existence, showing under a mammoth canvas theater scating over 2,000 people; presenting i more special features than any other minstrel i show in the world. Just the place to go and take your wife, elster or best girl for an evening and enjoy yourself. Owing to the large scating capacity of the fent, the admission is 15 and 25 cents.

New Hotel.

Those in charge of the new hotel movement heid a meeting last week and adopted plans for the erection of the proposed structure. The architect is now preparing plans and estimates, and the work will be ready for progress in the course of a few weeks. Abbeville will soon have a hotel of which we may well boast, and of which the traveling public need not complain.

The Place to Get silver-ware Cheap I am in position to take special orders for anything in silverware. My eatalogues are open at all times and I will take great pleasure in showing anyone through, who may desire anything in this line. All goods guaranteed.

Yery Respectfully,
T. G. White.

DUE WEST.

Re-union of Survivors of Orr's Regi ment - Emmys and Speeches - A Grand Occasion. Due West, S. C., Aug. 19, 1902. Mrs. E. L. Reid and children went to Charlotte some days ago.

Week. A. S. Kennedy, with his family, is at the word of command in the following tra-week.

Mr. A. S. Kennedy, with his family, is at Fairview for a few days rest and recreation.

Mr. S. D. Brownlee is expected in town this week by his Due West triends.

A large swarm of county candidates is expected in Due West on Thursday.

Miss Mary Baird and Miss Alice Baird went to Antreville Monday to attend the campaign meeting and visit the family of Mr. R. A. Haddon for a few days.

Rev. J. A. Brown is conducting a protracted meeting at Midway church.

Let the ladies turn out on Thursday and hear the county candidates. The speeches will be short and some of them spicy. At other places in the county large numbers of ladies have attended the meetings and Due West must not be behind on her campaign day. Men, women and children are invited. On Wednesday, August 18th, the survivors of Orr's regiment beid their re-union at Due West. Forty-five members of the regiment were present and one hundred and diffecen oid soldiers were registered. The exercises were held in the auditorium of Erskine College. moldiers were registered. The exercises were held in the auditorium of Erakine College soldiers were registered. The exercises were held in the suddiorium of Erskine College. Dr. F. Y. Pressly, on behalf of the town authorities, extended a cordial welcome to the veterans and turned the town over to them. General R. R. Hemphill of Abbeville was the presiding officer, and discharged the duties gracefully as might have been expected. Colonel James Armstrong of Charleston was the corator of the occasion. His address was tall of wit and humor, entertaining from beginning to end. As he spoke the battle-soarred veterans lived over once more their experiences on the tented field where legs and arms and eyes were freely sacrificed for loved ones at home. The audience was delighted with the speech of Col. Armstrong and will be pleased to bear from him again.

Miss Julia Charles, a daughter of Mr. Henry Charles, a brave Confederate soldier who discharged faithfully the duties of a citizen and father as well as those of a soldier, read a beautiful and appropriate essay on the causes that led to the war. The essay was much enjoyed by the entire audience. Miss Charles is a handsome young isdy, retined and well educated.

Col. Baylis Crayton made some interesting remarks.

The Due West band furnished the music, the old soldiers yelled, the ladies smiled and applauded, and the occasion was pronounced by one and all a great success.

Six hundred persons partook of the picnic dinner that was served in the college dormitory dining hall on account of the threatening rain. Due West was giad to entertain the old soldiers and they expressed themselves as highly pleased with their treatment while in Due West. All honor to the old soldiers who nonored Due West with their presence and who must come to see us again. The re-union at Due West will be long talked of as one of the most pleasant occasions in the history of the town.

Floral Parade.

A Queen of the Carnival will be elected by popular vote. Any person may vote for a joung lady of Abbeville County under the following conditions:

Write the name of the young lady to be voted for on a slip of puper and enclose it with ten cents in an envelope and deposit the envelope in the ballot box. If a person desires to cast more than one vote for a young lady the number of votes should be indicated on the slip of paper and ten cents for each rote enclosed therewith. No vote will be counted which is not enclosed with the money.

In earlier times the ordinary man was money.

counted which is not enclosed with the money.

The ballot box will be open at Milford's drug store on the first day of September and will close on the 30th. At the end of each week, or oftener if it should be found desirable, the Secretary and Treasurer will count the votes under such regulations as may bereafter be decided upon and the number of votes received by each young lady will be published. The one who receives the highest number will be declared Queen of the Carnival.

The floral parade of last year was a grand event but it is purposed to have one this year that will excel it. All persons who can possibly do so should enter the parade and help to make it a success.

The supreme court decision is that any polsonous ingradient, whether in quantity to injure health or not, is a violation of the statute. The cry goes up that this "will affect 20 per cent of the stock of the average dealer." If one-fifth of the merchandles sold for food contains poisonous ingredients, there is a startling necessity for active measures. The stupid plea that the poison is not enough in any one article to burt the consumer indicates that the vendors never give enough thought to any aspect of the question but the pursuit of the nimble dime and nickel to learn the effect of the cumulative poisoning. Certainly when we hear from the trade itself that the practice of mixing poison in food has attained a 39 per cent prevalence, it is time for strenuous suppression, aimed with the most viger at the manufacturers of such attained.

We are God's own creatures, and God is our own God. All else will fail us, but he never. All is love with him -love in light and love in darkness, love always and everywhere.

A friend has been defined as"the one who comes in when everybody else goes out." Jesus is such a friend. He "loyeth at all times," and "sticketh closer than a brother." If He calls you to a kind of service which is according to His will, but not according to your taste, you must not go to it with less, rather with more, self and selfwill there is in anything we do the better. No man or woman can "enter into life," have eternal life, unless there is some unselfish service in their lives. The unselfish service is what gives life its chief interest, brings us into its ker-nal, does not feed us on husks.
